LITTLE LOCALS

Thanksgiving day.

Cranberry sauce at Barreda's.

Who is to be Brownsville's next mayor?

Read Lieut. Chatfield's new ad. today.

Thanksgiving services were held at the Episcopal church.

An interesting game of baseball took place this afternoon.

Go to Barreda's and see those large, fine sweet Mexican oranges.

Mass was held at the Cathedral this morning in commemoration of the day.

There will be a hop at the residence of Mr. Mike Leahy Saturday night.

If private parties would build a system of water works it would pay here.

J. B. Wells, Esq., of Brownsville is quartered at the Mahneke hotel San Antonio.

We are glad to state that Miss Mary Douglas has recovered from her recent illness.

If Brownsville boys want to be up with the times they should give up baseball for football.

The Western Union telegraph office, postoffice and several stores were closed in honor of the day.

A grand total of the votes cast in Texas in the recent election aggregates something over 418,491.

Capt. E. R. Tarver of Laredo will be an applicant for the collectorship of the Corpus Christi district.

The schooner George Hall from Galveston, arrived at Brazos this morning with a load of flour and corn.

The "Twin Cities of the Border" should heed Lieut. Chatfield's call, and make it their business to advertise themselves.

A pleasant card party was given at the residence of Prof. F. J. Cummings last evening, in honor of Mr. George Snider.

Capt. R. M. Dalzell, we are pleased to note, is having his front yard sodded. Nothing adds more to the appearance of a dwelling than a pretty green lawn.

A marriage license has been issued by County Clerk Webb to day to O. W. Hodges and Mrs. Benigna Barclay, both of this county, near the Arroyo Colorado.

Recruit Daniel J. McInnis, now at Jefferson Barracks, Mo., has been designated for assignment as farrier and blacksmith to Troop I, Third Cavalry, at Fort Ringgold.—San Antonio Express.

Brownsville will soon have an electric light plant. It is to be hoped that the people of our city will accord it that patronage which such an enterprise deserves. The plant will be put in operation and backed by two of our enterprising citizens.

We should all give thanks for the bountiful rains we have had.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 19.—Corporal Michael Kane, Company D, Twenty-third Infantry, Fort Bliss, is transferred as private to Troop B, Third Cavalry, stationed at Fort Brown.

Mr. Benj. Kowalski, the rustling commission man, informs us that there will probably be over 5,000 sacks of corn on the market here soon. It is now en route both by steamer and by schooner.

Services at the Episcopal church were very well attended this morning. The church was prettily decorated with palms and flowers. Rev. Mr. Portmess delivered quite an interesting sermon.

We call attention of our readers to the ad. of Mr. Henry F. Hord which we publish today. Mr. Hord is a rising lawyer of Rio Grande City, and any legal business placed in his hands will be well attended to.

Mrs. J. D. Anderson is anticipating a visit from her sister Miss Hattie Stevenson, who will probably spend the winter in Brownsville. The friends of Mr. and Mrs. Anderson will be glad to extend a welcome to their guest.

Commanding officers of posts and regiments in this department have been called upon for a report upon the operation of the new drill regulations with such suggestions and views as they may consider proper to make in connection therewith.—San Antonio Express.

Such a beautiful, warm Thanksgiving day as this has been, would scarcely be recognized as the same day by our northern cousins. Even Brownsville people recall the fact that last year they donned their heavy wraps to attend Thanksgiving services, while today we are enjoying balmy pleasant weather.

During the lyceum season at Fort Brown Captain J. B. Johnson, Third Cavalry, will deliver a lecture on "Troop Administration, and Second Lieutenant S. P. Ryan, same regiment, will prepare and read a paper on the subject of "Principles and Details of Shoeing Cavalry Horses." Captain Johnson and Lieutenant Ryan are the only two line officers present at the post.—San Antonio Express.

We acknowledge the receipt of an invitation to attend the approaching marriage of our esteemed young friend, Mr. Fred H. Starck, jr., to Miss Sarah A. Garnier, one of Brownsville's fairest daughters. The marriage is to be consummated in the Cathedral at Brownsville on the 30th instant and is to be a very elegant affair. The to be groom is a grandson of Capt. M. Kenedy of this city and has many friends here to tender their good wishes.—Corpus Christi Caller.
